

Porthos: the CCS chain

Porthos is developing a project to transport CO₂ from industry in the port of Rotterdam (the Netherlands) and store this in empty gas fields under the North Sea.

The Porthos infrastructure consists of an onshore pipeline and compressor station in the Rotterdam port area, an offshore pipeline and storage facilities on the North Sea.

